The news says Georgetown needs more men of push.

If your children are subject to croup watch for the first symptom of the disease—hoarseness. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse it will prevent the attack. Even after the croupy cough has appeared the attack can always be prevented by giving this remedy. It is also invaluable for colds and whooping cough. For sale by R. C. Hardwick, druggist.

We would not rest easy over night without it in the house." This remedy undoubtedly gives more pain and suffering than any other medicine in the world. About 2,000 persons in France are marked as anarchists, and are constantly watched by the police of the various European countries, according to La Figaro, of whom 500 are French and 1,500 are foreigners, Italy leading with 540, followed by Switzerland with 800, Germany and Russia with 240 each, Austria and Belgium with 60 each. As regards occupation, shoemakers, carpenters and day laborers of all nations furnish large proportions of the anarchists, while the educated professions hardly appear. German tailors and printers, Swiss watchmakers and farmers, Italian clerks and bakers, and French waiters and persons without avowed business tend more to anarchy than those of other nationalities. The Russians differ from all the others in that 80 per cent. of the persons under surveillance are students, another 30 per cent. professional men, and hardly 1 per cent. have occupations requiring no education.

Praises the Chinese Cook.

An American physician, Dr. Fales, who has spent many years in China, has a high opinion of Chinese cookery, which, he says, is skillfully contrived to increase the digestibility of the food prepared. Whenever indigestible meats are to be used as food, he says, the cook increases their assimilative character by the use of pectoniferous tripe and vinegar.

WHAT A PROMINENT INSURANCE MAN SAYS.

H. M. Blossom, senior member of H. M. One bottle completely cured me. I sent one bottle to my sister, who had a severe cough, and she experienced immediate relief. I always recommend this syrup to my friends.

A THRIVING INDUSTRY.

It Turns Out Ready-Made Literary Productions.

"Original" Essays Furnished to College Students—Preachers Need No Longer Write Their Own Sermons—Nor Statesmen Their Own Speeches.

The postal authorities have been asked to break up an industry which has started in the city of Washington, says the Troy Times, but after investigating the matter they have been forced to acknowledge their helplessness. The new industry is no more nor less than the business of furnishing literary productions to those in need. The firm in charge will for a money consideration provide original essays, orations, etc., for school and college students. This part of the business should be broken up if it is possible to do so, as it interferes seriously with the work of the colleges and schools. But there is another important feature of the industry which might be permitted to continue. That is the supplying of speeches to statesmen whose constituents might be anxious to hear from them. These statesmen are compelled to offer at least one speech during every session of congress which they have the good fortune to attend in an official capacity, and it is vastly better that they should have speeches written for them than attempt to write their own.

The business of furnishing ready-made sermons to clergymen disinclined to write their own and willing to pay for others' productions has long been carried on, and to a greater extent perhaps in England than here. It may doubtless be objected that these transactions involve more or less of fraud. Yet as a matter of fact are they not reducing to a simple commercial basis a practice that is very general? Men obtain information where they can and use it as they wish. And why not? Is it not theirs when they get it? The man who is clever enough to utilize the knowledge which others possess but do not understand how to turn to account should not be condemned as a brain borrower. He is simply using material that would otherwise be valueless. Vast stores of mineral wealth may be beneath the soil, its owner unconscious of its existence. A wide-awake prospector comes along, detects the presence of the riches below the surface, and, obtaining possession, proceeds to develop it. Who deserves the most credit—the man who originally owned the mine and failed to uncover its treasures, or the one who unsealed the hidden veins and thus helped to increase the resources of a nation?

Knowledge, like wealth, serves no useful purpose unless put into active effort for the common good. It is better for ministers to prepare their own sermons, for statesmen to compose their own speeches and for pupils to write their own essays. But sometimes it is a distinct public gain to have the work done by those of readier minds.

Household Hints.

The best way to keep your children from being spoiled is to let your neighbors bring them up. Less partiality is shown, and it is a well-recognized fact that children always behave best when away from home.

Russet-leather polish is not good for hard-wood floors. The best plan yet devised for polishing oak stair rails is to take six healthy boys, clad in corduroy or chamois, and let them slide down the banisters an hour a day.

Midnight suppers might add much to the immediate amiability of your husband, but in the long run they are not desirable, since they will ultimately destroy his digestion, and in giving them to him to keep him good-natured for the present you are merely deferring the irritation to a later period.—Harper's Bazar.

Making Bargains.

"Everything marked down to the lowest possible point?" said the merchant, inquiringly.

"Everything," replied the clerk.

"I put the $1.50 silks at $1.25, and everything else in proportion."

"At $1.25!" exclaimed the merchant. "Are you crazy?"

"Why, no, sir. You told me to mark them down for a genuine bargain sale."

"Of course I did; but do you think a woman can ever see a bargain in even money? Make them either $1.24 or $1.26 at once."—Chicago Post.

Marriage of College Women.

The college woman marries later in life than her uneducated sister. The most rapid increase in the rate, in the figures given for college women, is between the ages of twenty-five and thirty, showing marriage most frequent at this period; while for women in general it is most frequent between twenty and twenty-five. The census shows 9.7 per cent. of all girls between fifteen and twenty married—an age at which virtually no college women ever marry.—Century.

A Woman's Heart.

ONE DISEASE THAT Baffles THE PHYSICIAN.

The Story of a Woman who Suffered for Nine Years. How She was Cured.

(From the Newark, N. J., Evening News)
Valvular disease of the heart has always been considered incurable. The following interview therefore, will interest the medical profession, since it describes the successful use of a new treatment for this disease. The patient is Mrs. Geo. Archer, of Clifton, N. J., and this publication by the News is the first mention made of the case by any newspaper. All physicians consulted pronounced the patient suffering with valvular disease of the heart, and treated her without the slightest relief. Mrs. Archer said: "I could not walk across the floor; neither could I go up stairs without stopping to let the pain in my chest and left arm cease. I felt a awful constriction about my arm and chest, as though I were tied with ropes. Then there was a terrible noise at my right ear, like the labored breathing of some great animal. I have often turned expecting to see some creature at my side."

"Last July," continued Mrs. Archer, "I was at Springfield, Mass. visiting, and my mother showed me an account in the Springfield Examiner, telling of the wonderful cures effected by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. My mother urged me to try the pills and on November 25th last I bought a box and began taking them, and I have taken them ever since, except for a short interval. The first box did not seem to benefit me, but I persevered, encouraged by the requests of my relatives. After beginning on the second box, to my wonder, the noise at my right ear ceased entirely. I kept right on and the distress that I used to feel in my chest and arm gradually disappeared. The blood has returned to my face, lips and ears, which were entirely devoid of color, and I feel well and strong again."

"My son, too, had been troubled with gastric and I induced him to try the Pink Pills, with great benefit. I feel that everybody ought to know of my wonderful cure and I bless God that I have found something that has given me this great relief."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are now given to the public as an unfailing blood builder and nerve restorer, curing all forms of weakness, arising from a watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves, two fruitful causes of most every ill that flesh is heir to. These pills are also a specific for the troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, all forms of weakness, chronic constipation, bearing-down pains, etc., and in the case of men will give speedy relief and effect a permanent cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excess of whatever nature. The pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, (50 cents a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50—they are never sold in bulk, or by the 100) by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

WOMEN'S PATENTS.

Resume of a Pamphlet Recently issued on the Subject.

A pamphlet recently published by the patent office gives a list of patents issued to women by the government. The pamphlet is supplementary to those heretofore published and brings the list of such issues up to March 1 last.

The office was established in 1790 and the first patent issued to a woman was in 1809, to Mary Kies, for a method of weaving straw with silk or thread. Six years later one was issued to Mary Brush for a corset. It was not until 1828 that more than one patent a year was issued to women. In 1862 only 14 patents were issued to women, that being the largest in any year up to that time.

The war, however, developed the inventive genius of women and the annual number of patents issued to them increased rapidly. Many of them were for inventions for either fighting or nursing devices. The annual issue increased steadily year by year. In 1870 it was 60, in 1880 over 92, in 1890 over 200 and 1893 over 300.

From 1809 to 1833 women's inventions averaged 30 a year; from 1833 to 1892 230 a year, and since 1892 250 a year. The pamphlet gives a classification of women's inventions. This shows that wearing apparel leads the list with 160 different patents in 50 months.

Then comes cooking utensils with 100 inventions, furniture with 55, heating and washing or cleaning apparatus with forty-odd each, sewing and spinning devices and building apparatus with about 30 each, educational and medical apparatus, toys and trunks about 20 each, and other lines in which women have tried their inventive faculties are baby carriages, barrel and bicycle attachments, printing and bottling apparatus, boxes and baskets, clocks, flowers, horseshoes, motors, musical instruments, plumbing and preserving devices, screens, stationery, theatrical apparatus, toilet articles and typewriter attachments.

Few of the patents issued to women were for entirely new creations, excluding those especially concerning women's work. Nearly all the other patents were for attachments to some previously existing device.

"Why don't I like America?" said an Englishman who was drinking a cocktail in a Broadway hotel the other day. "I haven't found anything here that I like. Take your athletic spirit, for instance. It's bogus. What is your representative sport? Baseball, is it not? Well, that simply represents the work of hired men. It isn't really sport. Besides, I can't understand your newspaper accounts of it. They are very mysterious. Waiter, another cocktail. Your climate is bad and your politicians are jingoes. I have been disappointed all around and in everything save one, and that is your cocktails. I drank six last night before going to bed. I have suffered from your climate to-day."
